SUN BEAMS

By WALTER Mc BARRETT

The report of the auditor for the Truckee Public Utility District was indeed gratifying. It bore evidence that the locally owned utility is proving its value to the community not alone in big savings to the consumers but as a business venture for the district. We know that there have been some doubts expressed concerning the conduct and financial affairs of the district, but the report should for all time hush any unjust criticism as it specifically pointed out that the management should be commended for the efficient manner in which the affairs are conducted and for the economy practiced. We believe that the directors and manager of the district have earned a vote of thanks from the people they are serving.

The Truckee Chamber of Commerce will recommend to the state division of highways that a guard rail be installed down the grade this side of Donner Summit. At least ten fatalities have occured there in recent years and it is the general belief that at least some of these lives could have been spared by the erection of a fence. While more caution in driving is, of course, the safest means for avoiding mishaps, there is little doubt that the guard rail will serve as a beneficial warning and we concur with the chamber in its recommendation.

The Tahoe Ski Club is sponsoring a President's Birthday Ball at the Community Center there Saturday evening and residents of Truckee and the surrounding area are being invited to participated with the progressive Tahoe aggregation in having a good time and supporting a worthy cause. Truckee in the past has generously supported this annual event and it is hoped this year will not prove an exception.

Perhaps some are wondering why the long silence in the erstwhile campaigin to get the streets and alleys cleaned and kept clean. There is only one reason and that is the seeming uselessness of continuing. We have about reached the conclusion that the good citizen who said we were only "wasting printing" was right after all. If we want our streets filthy and our alleys filthier, we can certainly have them that way. When two and a half years of earnest offering of reasons contrary are unavailing, even in the smallest degree we are enclined to forsake what we still contend was a worthwhile endeavor.

Incidentally there is another cause which we will not forsake and that is the necessity of home trading. We have spoken many times on this subject and know that more and more are agreeing that if we are to keep Truckee money working for Truckee it will be necessary to spend it at home.

THURMAN LAW MAY AID LUMBERMEN IN LAND TAXES

Owners of timber land, both large and small, will be relieved of a 2 cent per acre tax for fire protection if a bill introduced by Assemblyman A. Thurman last week is approved. During 1937 a total of 549 suits were filed against delinquent land owners, 155 of whom were Nevada County property owners. In 1938 579 liens were filed against delinquents 145 owned acreage in this county.

In amending and eliminating a part of the present law. Thurman is endeavoring to place the payment of the present tax on a voluntary basis so that large lumber interests can continue to pay to the fire prevention program. The law as proposed will place a voluntary tax of a cent an acre in the pine timber area and a half cent tax in the redwood area.

Thurman believs that on the whole, forest fire portection is a statewide obligation. That the forests and water sheds are used by the large centers of population and that the cost should be shared by them.

Yuba Pass Ski Hill Is Proving to be Attraction

The Yuba Pass Ski Hill cleared last year by the Forest Service in the vicinity of Emigrant Gap has continuously met with public favor, according to District Ranger John R. Hodgson at the Big Bend Ranger Station. Hodgson states that a recent count showed 150 cars at that ski hill alone, indicating a usage on that day by probably 700 persons.

Company Official Denies Disposal Of Nearby Plant

Rumors Here Say Floriston Mill Sold To New York Concern

CONFLICTING REPORTS

"New Process" Of Disposal Of Refuse Reported In Truckee

Although current rumors persist that the Floriston property of the Crown Willamette Paper Company is to undergo repair preparatory to the installation of machinery for man ufacturing pulp paper, R. J. Schadt official of the company in charge of the Floriston plant, advised the Sierra Sun in a telephone communication Wednesday to "take no stock in the report."

The reports circulated here were that two New York men had taken over the mill and had employed a crew of men to repair and remodel the mill for the purpose of installing machinery.

It was said that a new process for eliminating the refuse which formerly had polluted the river and which led to closing the mill some years ago, had been invented and would be used at the plant, thus climinating any objectional feature for the manufacture of paper.

Schadt said that he knew of no men employed at the mill aside from the employes of his company. He branded as false the report that his company had disposed of the property and suggested that the story was "entirely wrong."

Scores of men were employed at one time in the mill and woods in the paper manufacturing enterprise. The problem of polluting the Truckee River, which supplies Reno's domestic water supply, became an issue and after months of controversy, the plant was closed and most of the machinery removed, leaving only buildings hotel, homes and other structures.

The plant has been kept in good repair and men have remained on the premises as watchmen since the work stopped, but until the rumor was started here this week, no mention of reopening has ever been made.

SEAWELL PREDICTS DEFEAT OF REFORM OF LEGISLATURE BILL

The Yorty Amendment for a unicameral legislature, supposed to have administration support, is due for rough sledding in both houses of the legislature if the opinions of the leaders of the respective houses have any say in the matter. Both Republican Senator Jerrold L. Seawell, president pro tem of the senate, and Democrat Hugh Donnelly, speaker pro tem of the Assembly have come out against it.

"If the assembly sends us the unicameral legislature bill," said Seawell, "I am sure the Senate will defeat it overwhelmingly. Personally, I am in favor of the checks and balances of the present two-house system and I confident a large majority of the present legislature and the people of California feel the same way about it."

BOCA DAM WILL BE COMPLETE LATE THIS SUMMER

Late summer of this year has been set as the tentative date by federal engineers for the completion of the upstream storage reservoir at Boca. The job began on April 1, 1937 but due to weather conditions, work is stopped for the winter months, only a skeleton crew remains.

With the advent of spring, operations will be resumed.

Work remaining includes rock fill, concrete road and operating deck to be built across the spillway and curb walls and parapet. The installation of additional outlet pipes, needle valves and valve house will be completed in the spring.

The dam is complete to within 8 feet of the crest and is declared safe for water storage in the spring.

Gregory Brothers To Give Up Associated Oil Station Feb. 1st

Local Men Announce They Will Not Continue Work Here

Gregory Brothers, who for nearly two years have operated the Associated Station on Commericial Row here, announced this week that they are giving up the business about February 1 or as soon as negotiations have been completed to replace them by the company. Several possible successors have been mentioned but no definite decision has been reached, the report indicated.

R. L. Gregory, senior member of the firm, came here in 1931 as manager of the Associated Oil Company and retained that position until two years ago when he took over the station, previously operated by the Campbell Brothers.

Soon after that time he was joined by his brother, Stanford, and the two have managed the popular station ever since.

Both have been active in civic affairs here, the elder brother being a past president of the Truckee Lions Club and always a leader in local affairs. His brother this winter is associated with Earl Edmunds in managing the Truckee Winter Sports, a job which he plans to retain during the current season at least.

Neither of the brothers, according to the report, have made any definite plans for the future but it is hoped they will rmain in Truckee where they have many friends and where they have established their homes.

AIRPORT FOR TAHOE LOOMS AS PLANS ARE BEING RENEWED

AUBURN, Jan. 26— Hopes that a county airport may be constructed at Lake Tahoe have increased with the issuance by the Federal Civil Aeronautics Authority of an unconditional certificate of necessity for the project.

Backers plan to receive aid from both civil and military funds for the airport. A recent application for a WPA grant was rejected because of a lack of funds.

The certificate was received by County Engineer D. M. Hoffman, who is conferring with the board of supervisors before any definite action.

The tentative site is adjacent to U.S.50 in Lake Valley, near Meyers and the 5-acre forest service station.

—County boards of supervisors would be permitted to levy taxes for the purpose of advertising the natural resources of their communities under terms of a bill introduced in the senate by F. W. Mixter of Exeter.

Affairs Of Local District Found In Good Condition; Expert Audit Completed

Report Shows Utility District To Be Financially Sound; Largest Single Expenditure of Forty-four Per Cent Put Out For Electrical Energy

MANAGER COMMENDED FOR SERVICES IN REPORT

Delinquent Accounts Mark Only Criticism Shown in Audit By Expert Public Accountant During Review Of District's Bookkeeping System

Books and accounts of the Truckee Public Utility District are in excellent condition and the district is financially sound.

This was shown by the report submitted this week by Harry M. Straine, expert employed by the directors t caudit the books and survey local conditions.

The records show, according to the report, that gross billings for the year less discounts and adjustments, to be $25,898.73, with operating expenses, including depreciation, of $18,784.38, leaving a net operating income before deductions for non-operating expenses of $7,113.85, and a final net income of $4,495.92.

The largest outlay was for power, the cost of which was $11,534.20, or 44.6 per cent of the net billings for the year.

A full financial report of the district for the past year will be found on another page of The Sierra Sun this week.

In a general summary of his investigation, Straine reported:

"The minutes of the board were examined and all matters contained therein pertinent to our examination were given due consideration.

"Based on the average monthly billings, the age of the consumers accounts receivable average approximately two months. It appears to us that a more strict collection effort should materially reduce the old accounts.

"It is our opinion that your manager, Mr. Edmunds, should be commended for the efficient manner in which he has conducted the business during the period under review. In addition to his many duties on the outside, there is a lot of detail in the office in connection with keeping the records and general office routine.

"It is our suggestion that the board consider employing an assistant to take care of some of the office work, relieving Mr. Edmunds to some extent in order that he may devote more time to outside duties, including collections."

The surety bonds of directors and officers were examined and found to be in order.

Other salient facts revealed by the financial report are that:

1— All recorded receipts reported collected were deposited in the bank and all disbursements were made by check which appear to be proper expenditures.

2— The cash balance, December 31 1938, was $2,772.60 or a decrease of $1,975.44 as compared with the balance sheet on hand January 1, 1938 of $4,748.04. This was due, in part, to advances made to the Water Department, which in turn were invested in fixed properties by that department.

3— Fixed properties (cost $42,740.59) This item represents investment in fixed properties since the date of installation and reserve for depreciation has been provided at the rate of 5 per cent per annum from July 1, 1928. The depreciation book value of these assets December 31, 1938 was $25,608.61

4— Surplus—$23,433.53. This amount is the excess of assets over liabilities and is composed of proceeds from original sale of bonds and accumulated earnings in excess of depreciation since the district started operations.

5— Water Department: This department shows a deficit of $45.29 from operations for the short period that service was in operation. However, the department is new and the results for future operations should not be judged by the short period ending December 31, 1938.

Robert Gifford, formerly of the Standard Oil Company here, has assumed the management of the local office of the Texaco Company this month. The position was held by Karl Kielhofer prior to his resignation.

Future plans of Kielhofer have not been revealed. He is in Los Angeles on a business trip at the present.

Relics Removed From Rocking Tower Upon Advise By Local Man

Promise Was Solicited For Return To Truckee, McIver Says

The famous collection of McGlashan relics removed several weeks ago from the old Rocking Stone Tower on the property recently purchased by Nevada County as a site for the proposed Veterans' Memorial building, were carted to the court house in Nevada City at the request of James McIver, Jr., chairman of the American Legion building committee.

This was revealed here Monday after several unanswered letters written for local organizations to the board of supervisors had sought a reason for the removal and requested their return. While letters remain unanswered, according to Mrs. Lotta Bryant, secretary of the Truckee Chamber of Commerce, McIver reported to C. B. White, president of the chamber, that he had asked Supervisor Alex Robertson to place the valuable collection in a safer place pending completion of the proposed veterans' building.

County Clerk R. N. McCormack according to McIver, made two trips to Truckee, inspected the remains and with a promise to have the collection sheltered, returned to the county seat. A short time later, McIver declared, the relics were crated and trucked to Nevada City where they are now being held.

McIver said that his action was unauthorized insofar as local organizations or individuals were concerned He reported that several weeks ago he had entered a spirited controversy with a stranger over the latter's right to visit the tower and inspect the relics. The stranger, he said, went to the tower despite his warning and apparently with intent to view the collection without permission. The self-appointed guardian said the stranger left hurriedly when McIver approached. No report of the incident was made to local officers, he said, and the matter was taken up with Supervisor Robertson and the request made that the remains be more amply protected.

McIver did not report the matter to anyone here, he declared, even after several news stories reported the fact that local organizations were resentful at the action and had made several inquiries to the board of supervisors.

The relics have been housed, in evident security, in the tower for many years where they have attracted and delighted thousands of visitors. In recent years the tower was closed and the windows and doors boarded up to prevent looting until such a time as the estate was settled and the mementos could be housed in a permanent display place.

McIver said a promise was solicited that the collection would be returned if and when the proposed veterans' memorial is completed.

NO SUSTITUTE——

Those who subscribe to the doctrine that a government can "spend its way into prosperity," are due for a rude awakening, as a study recently published by the National Bureau of Economic Research indicates.

According to this study, tremendous drops hve taken place in the production of durable goods and in privately owned and financed construction. Between 1919 and 1929, the money spent for these purposes averaged about $19,00,000,000 annually. In recent years, the average has dropped to $6,500,000,000 annually.

In those years, government spending has been at record levels—levels so high that the bulk of disinterested economists freely forecast ruin for the counthy if they are long maintained. Yet, inspite of that, pump-priming by the federal government—which means money going into costruction and durable goods industries—has averaged but $2,620,000,000 every year.

As the Morning Oregonian observes, "The incapacity of government to overcome the decline in private investment in durable goods is at once apparent." Furthermore, the very weight of government spending is in itself a tremendous barrier to a resumption of private spending on any substantial scale. Government pump-priming means continually rising taxes, plus a continually rising debt—and the result is to frighten the investor, dishearten industry, which finds its profits diminishing even when it manages to hold its volume of sales to good levels, and drive money into hiding in tax-exempt government securities.

No one argues that this so-called "emergency" spending by the government can now be terminated at once. But all the valid economic evidence at hand indicates that the salvation of the country depends on a program to gradually reduce this terrific spending—and to encourage, through sound tax policies, a resumption of private spending in the durable goods field. There is n substitute for private capital—ever as there is no substitute for private initiative and energy in making the wheels go arounr.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS——

Nothing can replace property destroyed by fire. An insurance policy may provide you with the money to duplicate—but the burned property is gone beyond redemption. It represented utter and complete economic waste. It is a drain on ththe resources of the nation.

The direct loss by fire has been running in the neighborhood of $300,000,000 a year. It is estimated that the indirect loss is several times as great; which would bring the total to a billion, at a low etsimate.

That billion dollars would give employment to a million workmen at $1,000 a year each. It would build more than 300,000 homes costing $3,000 each. It would buy more than 1,200,000 automobiles at $800. It would build 200,000 miles of splendid highway. It would give university educations to 250,000 young men and women. It would porvide annual pensions of $50 a month each to 2,000,000 old people.

This, then, is what fire destroys—wealth, opprotunity, and orreplaceable resources. America's criminal carelessness with fire is one of the blackest spots on our national escutcheon. A fire you never heard of may have deprived you of a job, or an order for your business. It may have raised your taxes. For fire hits everybody—and it's everybody's business to prevent it.

Election Reforms Sought By Nation-Wide Voters Organization In States

The National Get-Out- the-Vote Club is continuing its nation-wide campaign of election and registration reforms. Congress and most of the State Legislatures met in January. Among the objectives of the nation-wide campaign proposed by the organization are:

1. Repeal the poll tax as a prerequlsite of the right to vote. The only States that on the globe today retain this "relic of barbarism" as once so termed by Prof. Ely of John Hopkins are ten American states.

Ballot reform: (a) Eliminate the old Electoral Coellge fiction of 1804, and end the pretense of choosing individual electors. It creates gross in equality by empowering one state to vote for 40 electors as against 4 electors to be chosen by voters of a neighboring state. (b) Eliminate the picture emblems at the top of the ballot, for example a crowing rooster or a rampant elephant. (c) shorten and simplify the ballot so that all can vote efficiently and intelligently.

3. Employ in all states the automatic voting machine which completes the verified returns by 9 p. m. and thereby puts an end to the untimely delay and uncertainty which invite election frauds.

4. Reduce to some standard of national uniformity the registration of voters so there may be equality of suffarage rights and uniform registration dates.

5 Prompt canvassing and reporting of election returns to prevent holding up returns for use by political bosses.

Governor's Secretary Given Special License With His Name

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26 —(UP)—Kenneth I. Fulton, assistant secretary to Gov. Culbert Olson, today is sporting license plates which carry, in sign language, his first initial, his last name and the number of persons in his family.

The plates are 3 K 2000 and figure out as follows:

3—the number in Fulton's family.

K—his first initial.

90-DAY SUMMER FOR STATE SCHOOLS IS SOUGHT BY SOLONS

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26 —(UP)—Senators sponsoring a bill calling for school vacations of not less than 90 days reported today that the measure was atracting strong support among their school-age constituents.

The proposal was offered as a means of extending the California tourist season, and proponents argued that it would add $100,000,000 to out-of-state tourists' expenditures in 1939 and greatly aid the San Francisco Golden Gate International Exposition.

The bill was offered as SB191.

"A 90-day summer school vacation makes a longer tourist season possible," the bill says. "A longer season encourages the out-of-state tourist to prolong his stay here, which means again more money left in California."

POLITICALLY SPEAKING

by JOHN W. DUNLAP
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26 —(UP)— The Olson administration, expecting to have some of its wings clpped in the Republican-controlled senate, certainly had its worst fears realized when the announcement of committees revealed 27 were in the hands of the Republicans and 15 with a Democratic majority.

No other outcome could be expected and the committee ran true to form. It presaged rough sledding ahead for much of the liberal and social legislation proposed by the new administration, particularly on the basis of the personnel of the committee on committees, which also functions as the rules committee.

Numerically, this ranking committee has three Republicans and two Democrats, with president pro tempore Jerrold Seawell, Roseville, as chairman. But all the Republicans are conservative, and Democrat Charles. Deuel of Chico as well, leaving only Robert Kenny, Los Angeles aligned with the liberal forces. The other Republicans are John Phillips of Banning and Edward Tickle.

Lieut. Gov. Ellis E. Patterson was effectually stripped of the presinding officer's usual powers of appointing the committees. The only really important committee captured by the Democrats was finance which is always given to the administration power to handle the budget. Finance Democrats were Kenny, chairman, J C. Garrison, Modesto; J. James Holister, Gavito; A. L. Pierovich, Jackson; Irwin T. Quinn, Eureka and Herbert Slater, Santa Rosa. Republicans are Harold J .Powers, Eagleville; Ralph Swing, San Bernadino J. I. Wagy, Bakersfield and W. P Rich, Marysville, now recuperating from accident injuries.

Radical labor legislation will strike a snag with three Democrats and two Republicans on the labor-capital committee but all being considered conservative except Kenny. The 5-2 ratio of Republicans on social security, pensions and relief may hamstring some of the state relief administration's proposals for self-aid cooperatives and production for use. Some of this disputed legislation will stay in committee unless called out by a floor vote, which would put every senator on record for his home constituents to see.

Public utility legislation will go into a committee of five Republicans and two Democrats, of whom Garrison, author of the Garrison Revenue Bond Act, is probably the only liberal on such legislation. His bill past both houses and the governor in 1937 but was killed by a referendum vote last November.

Administration tax bills are in for trouble in the 5-4 Republican controlled revenue and taxation committee although Garrison, Kenny, Quinn and Westover probably will stick closely to administration lines.

There are 40 senators and each got one chairmanship except Garrison and Seawell, who got two each.

Seawell explained that 26 of 48 recommendations made by Gov. Culbert Olson for personnel of the seven key committees were accepted by the committee.

"Of the remaining 22 members, a number were decidely satisfactory to the governor," Seawell said. He added that out of 187 first choices by senators, 107 were filled, in spite of some of the committees having twice as many requests as there were places ed their first choice, five others received their second choice, seven indicated no choice, while several of the remaining nine senators received better chairmanships than they had requested.

Here are the commmittess with the ratio of domination:

Republican: committee on committees, 3-2; agriculture, 3-2; building and construction, 3-0; building and loan, 3-2; civil service 4-1; commerce and navigation, 4-1; conservation, 3-0; corporations and financial institutions, 2-1; county government, 3-2; drainage, swamps and overflowed lands, 3-2; education, 6-3; elections, 3-2; governmental efficiency, 5-2; hospitals and asylums, 2-1; insurance, 4-3; livestock and dairying, 6-3; military affairs, 2-1; mines and mining, 3-2; municipal corporations, 3-2; public health, quarantine, 4-3; public utilities 5-2; revenue and taxation, 5-4; roads and highways, 6-3; rules, 3-2; social security, relief an d pensions, 5-2; social welfare, 3-2; intergovernmental cooperation, 3-2.

Democratic: aviation, aircraft, 2-1; banking, 4-1; constitutional amendments, 4-1; contingent expenses, 2-1; engrossing, enrollment and printing, 2 to 1; federal relations, 3-0; finance 5-4; irrigation, 4-3; judiciary, 9-4; labor and capital, 3-2; motor vehicles 5-4; oil industries, 4-3; prisons and reformatories, 2-1; and universities and state colleges, 3-2.

MANY FISH & GAME MEASURES UP

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26 —(UP)— Farmers who have tolerated hunter running across their property for all these years will have a chance to turn the tables and charge a fee for the priviege of hunting game birds if a bill before the legislature is enacted into law.

However, the farmer would have to propogate at least 100 birds for each 100 acres of each species included in the license he would be required to obtain from the state.

Any farmer, landowner or other person owning ro controlling shooting right on an area of "not less than 120 acres contiguous to properties where they maintain residence or where they propogate game birds or employ a gamekeeper" or organizations maintaining such an area near their headquarters would be authorized to apply for a shooting preserve license. The license would cost $10 and would permit shooting of legally propogated or wild game birds, other than migratory game birds.

The bill is SB328, introduced by Senators D. Jack Metzger and Jerry L. Seawell.

The same men, in SB327, proposed that the state game commission be authorized to establish public hunting and trapping areas in conjunction with "auxiliary state game refuges" provided for in the bill.

A group of Assemblymen also have proposed a constitutional amendment, ACA12 to provide for a fish and game commission of five members with a maximum term of 10 years, with terms so arranged that one member's term expires every other year. The existing commission serves at the pleasure of the governor. AB393 Assemblymen Call and Garland, would set four year trems.

Among scores of other bills on fish and agme were:

AB522 —Garland— to waive the prohibition on traps with saw-toothed or spiked jaws for hunting bear during open season.

SB84 —Slater— To require money received by the county for fines and forfeitures imposed for fish and game violations to be used only for fish and game propogation. The county in which an offense was committed receives by law, half of the court collections, the other half goes to the state.

AB391 —Call— To permit revocation of hunting license upon one conviction of game law viclation, instead of upon three convictions as at present.

AB71 —Heisinger— To permit only one deer to be taken in season by any one person.

AB71 —same— To permit deer to be taken by bow and arrow during the week prior to the regular season.

AB707 —Garland— To permit deer meat, marked and identified by a game warden or othre authoized person, to be kept 60 days after close of season. SB376 —Garrison— Provides that deer meat cut and sealed in packages by a butcher licensed by the fish and game commission may be kep after the close of the season.

At the State Capitol

WITH YOUR ASSEMBLYMAN, THURMAN

(by Assemblyman Allen G. Thurman)

The legislature adjourned on Wednesday of this week for the interim recess and will reconvene again for the second half of the 53rd session on March 6th.

This week's short session saw the appointing of committees in the Assembly by Speaker Paul Peek, the presentation of the administration's budget with Governor Olson's recommendations including his views on such issues as taxation and direct relief and a battle in the Assembly on the Senate Joint Resolution opposing the proposed Kings River National Park.

The matter of relief is one of the biggest problems which will face the legislators this session while the matter of taxation is of equal importance.

There is considerable opposition in the Assembly to aliens receiving relief. There are two sides to this alien relief question to be considered and one of them is that many of the aliens on relief have American born children. You cannot cut these aliens off relief without injuring their American born children. Personally, the writer wishes that some way could be found in which to cut aliens off. If an alien has lived in this country for twenty or thirty years without becoming a citizen we fail to see why he should have equal relief rights with citizens. We have enough of our own citizens to take care of without having to care for those who have had an opprotunity to become citizens but would not take advantage of it. It might interest some of my readers to know that the Weimar Tuberculosis Sanatorium which is operated by some fourteen counties have more than one hundred aliens as patients. The alien problem is indeed a problem.

Last week your Assemblyman introduced a bill in the Assembly which, if approved, would place the seven members of the State Board of Forestry on a basis of fixed terms instead of the present method of serving at the pleasure of the governor. If such a law were in effect, this important board would always have sufficient members on it who would be familiar with the work and the program and the appointing of new members would in no way handicap the State Division of Forestry. Too many boards are made up of political appointees who have little or no knowledge of the work of the board to which they have been appointed. In addition to the staggered terms we also have included in the law that five of the seven members of the board should be composed of one member each from the redwood timber industry, the pine timber industry, agricultuarl interests, live stock interests and one familiar with water conservation. All appointments would continue to be made by the governor.

We had the honor last Thursday of introducing Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 10, relative to the recent death of Judge Joseph Jerome Trabucco of Mariposa County. With us on the resoultion were Assemblymen Johnson, Carlson, Williamson, Gannon Millington and Phillips, all attorneys who knew and admired the late judge In the Senate your former Assemblyman, Senator Jesse Mayo, introduced the joint resolution with both houses of the legislature adjourned Friday out of respect to his memory. We were very happy to be able to introduce this resolution in honor of a man who typified the highest type of Superior Court Judge. A man of honesty, sterling character and sincerity

The Senote Joint Resolution opposing the formation of a National Park in the Kings River Canyon was passed Monday in the Assembly by a vote of 54 to 20. Opponents of the resolution who favored the proposed National Park were unable to prevent its passage. Your Assemblyman assisted in the passage of the resolution.

Committee appointments were made by Speaker Peek on Monday and your Assemblyman fared very well inasmuch as he was assigned to three committees of particular interest to the Sixh District, the fish and game mines and mining and conservation Other committees to which the writer was appointed are labor and capital, introduction of bills, state grounds and parks, and public charities and corrections.

POLITICAL POTPOURRI

by TOM JEFFERSON

If you think tha Senator William Edgar Borah has given up presidential aspirations, think again. When some senators tried, successfully, to cut the relief budget, Bill Borah, shagy mane and all, rose in rath and censured the senators for taking the bread from the starving. Now Borah is a rigid economist andwo uld like to see every possible saving made. He must have known his ranting wouldn't have the effect it did in 1919 so he made a magnificent play fo the gallery. Bill still hasn't forgotten the last G.O.P. convention when he polled the only votes against Alf Landon.

We wonder what's become of the Maine and Vermont jokes of 1936-1937. We wonder!

Quot of the Week: "In politics,, to be sure, one swallow makes a summer and one bat a black night." —Alvin Johnson.

Shame on us! Here we've been gunning allover the south and east for the next White Father and we were reminded by a friend of Senator Bert Wheeler of Montana that he is still alive and kicking (and how). Bert is popular with the conservative Democrats but has long been considered a "mustang" in the Senate. If any question of his liberalism arises, he can point to 1924 when his vice presidential aspirations were endorsed by the Progressives and the Socialists. An advocate of public ownership, he has never attacked the administration on fiscal policy but soley on organization of the government. His big disadvantage is that Mr. Roosevelt II would take a chance and seek a third term rather than accept Wheeler. All in all, it just wouldn't be smart to forget Bert in '40.

DEMOCRAT ELECTED TO SUCCEED McCOLL; MAJORITY CUT TO 4

REDDING, Jan. 26 —(UP)— Jesse W. Carter, Democrat, this week was elected to the State Senate seat left vacant by the death of Republican John B. McColl.

With only five out of 71 precincts yet to be heard from, Carter led his nearest Republican opponent, William B. Menzel, by approximately 650 votes Two other Republican candidates, Dr. Ernest Dozier and R. J. Anderson were for behind.

Carter's election increased the Democratic minority to 18 and reduced the Republican actual majority to 22 Senators W. P. Rich and Thomas McCormack of Rio Vista, both Republicans, have not yet attended the session, thus paring the G. O. P. Working majority to 20.

Senators Rich and McCormack are recovering from injuries sustained in a collision that occured as the solons were returning to Sacramento from Redding after attending Senator McColl's funeral.

SETTING FOR PAN AMERICAN CONFERENCE

THIS year's Pan American Conference was held in Lima, capital of Peru, christened by Pizarro "City of the Kings" — a city built with the gold looted from the palaces and temples of the Empire of the Incas, and for centuries seat of the royal viceroys who ruled most of South America in the name of the Kings of Spain. The meetings of the Conference, which opened December 9th, were held in the building shown above, the Congressional Building. It is a new edifice which after having been left unfinished for several years has been rushed to completion for the Conference. It is located on the famous Plaza de la Inquisicion, which is also flanked by the House of the Inquisition.

The official delegation from the United States has been entertained at the American Embassy in Miraflores, exclusive suburb of the capital. The main delegation from the United States arrived in Lima on the Grace liner Santa Clara which docked in Callao, port for Lima, two days before the opening of the Conference.

Anticipating a record breaking attendance at the Conference elaborate preparations were made in Lima to accommodate the visitors. Two floors have been added to the beautiful Hotel Bolivar, the city's most exclusive hostelry. A new resort hotel, "Villa Los Angeles" has just been built outside the city and many of the Spanish-colonial buildings have been touched up for the Conference.

Hawaiian Territory Is Seen As Forty-Ninth State By Former Governor Judd

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26— Hawaii may become the forty ninth state in the Union it was indicated by Lawrence Judd, ex-governor of Hawaii, who spoke on the campus of the University of California.

Governor of the Territory from 1929 to 1935, Judd made his appearance as "Hawaii's unofficial ambassador of understanding." he has been touring the United States in an effort to make Americans understand that Hawaii is more than just a vacationers paradise.

The Terriory's importance to the United States was stressed by the ex-governor when he outlined its advantages along economic, social and military lines.

In the social sphere, Judd declared that "the plantation workers in the Territory enjoy the highest standard of living of any agricultural labor group of the world."

Last but not least, was Judd's analysis of Hawaii as "the most impregnable naval stronghold in the Pacific" in which he showed that "so long as Hawaii defenses stand as an outward bulwark of our Pacific coast, two thousand miles beyond the mainland, the danger of an attack by sea or air upon continental United States is slight."

POLITICAL PARADE

By the PINCH HITTER for C. W.

During the weeks just ahead, the feud between Governor Culbert L. Olson and the obstreperous, Republican-controlled State Senate will flare into Page One headlines with a build-up ballyhoo that would do justice to a heavyweaight championship fight.

Even some of the headlines can be forecast with a fair degree of accuracy. For example:

"Senate Kills Big Pension Bill"

"Olson Production-For-Use Plan Is Amended in Senate"

And there will be many other headlines of similar nature featured perhaps, by occasional resounding statements by Governor Olson, denouncing the Senate for sandbagging his program.

But actually, much of the warfare will be simply a sham battle, with Mr. Olson secretly thanking his lucky stars that the Senate has seen fit to save him from his friends.

The new Governor knows, of course, that much of the legislation proposed by his left-wing retinue in the Assembly is visionary and unsound—but he also appreciates that it would cause sericus dissension among his followers if he should be forced to dissapprove and veto many such bills. Hence, Mr. Olson has come to look on the Senate (privately) Olson many a veto message in the months to come, and consequently, much embarrassment.

In light of this sate of affairs, just how do the members of the Senate feel (privately, again) about Governor Olson?

Many of the veteran solons, to tell the truth, are doing a bit of political poker playing at the moment—not ready to show their hands until Olson is ready to show his. The boys feel that Mr. Olson, under the circumstances, might be impelled first to ante up a few roads and bridges or signatures for other local bills of vital importance to their home districts.

On some fundamental issues, the battle between Governor Olson and the State Senate may be a rip-snorting battle without quarter or favor But may of the other skirmishes it now appears, will be fought for the benefit of the gallery—with neither Senate nor Governor half so incensed as they may seem to be.

The Man At The Keyhole

(BY OPERATIVE WB)

[illegible] question before the house [illegible], the Democratic side of the [illegible] Sacramento these days says the Gallery Gaper, isn't the [illegible]'s new cooperative relief plan nor the prospect of a $30-Thursday initiative, nor even Senator Brad Crittenden's proposed reepal of the gin marriage law. The thing that has the Democratic gentlemen all of a lather is this business of trying to ferret out the true from the false—to distinquish, in other words, which of the many purported "administration" bills which have been bouncing in cheerfully day by day, actually have the adminstration blessing—and vice versa.

Putting two and two together, California friends of ex-Senator McAdoo and Jefty O'Conner are wondering what else the two have been holding out on them. Says Harlan Miller of the Washington Post: "There's nothing quite like a Senator doing the Lambeth Walk!" And in the next breath: "We certainly miss McAdoo and O'Conner in Washington!"

The hope of upcountry Democrats that Thomas Armstrong of Sacramento will be named chief of the State Real Estate Board is based on the sad disclosure that most of the big city realty men guessed wrong in the gubernatorial election. Sacramento Bourbons report that Armstrong really went to town, organizing Olson clubs in some of the tightest Republican strongholds of Northern California. For which, they think, Tom should be rewarded in a big way—whenever the Governor gets around to thta stage of his convalesence.

SHATTUCK BILLS 4 STAR PROGRAM FOR ENSUING WEEK HERE

(By I. C. STARRS)

Climaxing a month of stellar entertainment in the cinematic field, Vern Shattuck, manager of the Donner Theater, this week presents one of the most variegated programs ever to be shown on the local beaded sheet.

On Saturday night the local movie house will present a really moving picture of the original jitterbugs, A picture of the mystery and savage beauty of the African interior. Filmed entirely in the native haunts of the jungle beast, "Dark Rapture" is undoubtedly the finest entertainment to come out of the dark continent since the advent of the shadow theatre.

On the following night America's little darling, Shirley Temple, will appear in her latest, supported by the veteran comedian of stage, screen and radio, Bert Lahr, in "Just Around the Corner." As ever, Shirley will provide fullbodied entertainment for both young and old. Her singing, dancing and acting that have so often brought genuine enjoyment to her public will again keep up her unspoiled record of box office hits.

Starting off a new month Shattuck has billed one of the most popular of the new hits of the current season, "The Affairs of Anabell." In the starring spots are moon-faced Jack Oakie and that talented and beautiful newcomer, Lucille Ball.

As always, Shattuck has billed with each feature a program of the best shorts put out by the industry.
